FlexiTrak, Actrol's complete refrigerant management solution, incorporates numerous helpful features well suited to assist with ARC compliance such as; detailed cylinder tracking and usage along with detailed refrigerant purchasing records.

Reports are available as summaries on cylinder usage or detailed usage. All refrigerant purchases are recorded including information such as tradesperson, date of transaction, invoice number, order number, job number/name, refrigerant type and volume. The detail of refrigerant purchased is also available upon request.

Your refrigerant solution

Refrigerant has always been a core part of Actrol's business. Actrol is the only major refrigeration and air conditioning parts wholesaler with significant bulk storage. Actrol sources the majority of its refrigerant from two of the top manufacturers in the world and in addition have access to many others when demand requires. This guarantees supply and availability of all the major refrigerants used worldwide, and with Actrol FlexiTrak you can now track your purchase every step of the way.

Your cylinder rental solution

Actrol controls its own immense cylinder circuit. These cylinders are carefully maintained to ensure that the refrigerant contained is clean and that the cylinders are well within test expiry date when filled. Cylinders for refrigerant are available from Actrol as rental cylinders, and importantly rental is free until the end of the following month. Continual free rental is achieved by regular swapping for a full cylinder at any branch as long as each occurs before the start of a rental charge period.

Your cylinder tracking solution

Each cylinder is individually identified. With this capability Actrol offers its customers a free cylinder tracking record with all the purchasing details unique to each transaction.

Reports are available as summaries on cylinder usage or detailed usage and can be requested at any branch or simply use the options available on Solutions Online. Summary data simply indicates number of cylinders in your possession. Detailed reports include information such as date of transaction, cylinder serial number, cylinder description including refrigerant type and volume, invoice number, order number, job number/name, tradesperson and their Solutions Card identification.

Your refrigerant tracking solution

Actrol's tracking system produces specific customer reports detailing refrigerant purchases for reconciliation purposes. Reports are available as summaries on refrigerant purchases or detailed information can be requested at any branch or simply use the options available on Solutions Online. Summary data simply state the volumes of each refrigerant you used over a given time period. Detailed reports include information such as date of transaction, refrigerant type and volume, invoice number, order number, job number/name, tradesperson and their Solutions Card identification.

Your refrigerant reclaim cylinder solution

Refrigerant reclaim cylinders are also available as part of Actrol's FlexiTrak cylinder rental circuit. These cylinders are rated to hold the highest pressured Fluorocarbon refrigerants commonly in use and can be rented to reclaim refrigerant as required by law. Returned refrigerant attracts a payment as directed by Refrigerants Reclaim Australia Ltd which is paid into your account via a Recipient Created Tax Invoice (RCTI). Returned refrigerant is also tracked and reported on your FlexiTrak refrigerant tracking either in a summary form or with all the detail shown. Rented cylinders also appear on the FlexiTrak Cylinder Tracking system.

Your pump down cylinder solution

Actrol's refrigerant cylinder circuit now includes clean Pump Down cylinders. These cylinders are designed to allow contractors to recover refrigerant from a system into a cylinder known to be clean, make any repairs that are needed, and then recharge the same refrigerant back into the same system. As part of the FlexiTrak cylinder circuit the rental of these cylinders is also tracked and is shown in both the summary and detailed cylinder reports available from Actrol.
